

BANKRUPTCY

Bankruptcies have taken center stage for many companies following the fallout from the world financial crisis, and McKool Smith's bankruptcy practice is staffed by some of the nation's most honored and respected bankruptcy litigation counsel. Our team handles complex bankruptcy matters, including bankruptcy reorganization proceedings, adversary proceedings, trials, settlement negotiations and bankruptcy related litigation in courtrooms across the United States.

Attorneys in the firm's bankruptcy practice have years of experience representing debtors, secured lenders, creditor committees and equity committees in a wide variety of insolvency claims. From international energy concerns to technology companies to banking institutions, our bankruptcy team has capably represented some of the world's most recognizable companies in matters governed by the U.S. Bankruptcy Code. McKool Smith's bankruptcy practice includes attorneys who have been called on to help draft bankruptcy regulations and provided Congressional testimony on matters impacting bankruptcy law.
