

WHAT SETS US APART

Every day, McKool Smith is involved in some of the most significant legal controversies playing out in courtrooms across the country. These are cases involving hundreds of millions of dollars, and often determine the fate of the companies involved. McKool Smith lawyers are equally comfortable representing plaintiffs and defendants in complex commercial, white collar, and patent litigation. We live in the courtroom. We believe that our track record speaks for itself.